Doylestown Township Police ~ Press Release 12/16/2014

On December 15, 2014 at 7:09 PM it was reported to the Doylestown Township police that an attempted carjacking occurred in the Stonington Farm Apartment Complex located in the 100 block of Commons Way Doylestown. The male victim who resides in the complex reported to the police that he was approached by a male suspect who was brandishing a knife and demanded that he turn over his keys. The victim who was legally armed with a firearm discharged the firearm towards the subject who then fled the area last seen running towards a wooded area.

During the police investigation the victim advised police that the suspect's description was similar to that of Bradley William Stone_who is a suspect in multiple homicides in Montgomery County earlier in the day. Due the nature of the previous crimes involving Stone the Doylestown Township Police department took every precaution possible to ensure the safety of the residents of the surrounding area.

K9 Units from surrounding police departments conducted multiple searches throughout the area which yielded negative results.

During the search period area residents and business were asked to shelter in place as a precaution and the shelter in place was lifted at approximately 1130 pm.

Crime scene units remain on scene processing the area for potential evidence until 12:30 AM on 12/16/14 and will return to the scene later today to view the scene during the daylight hours.

At this time the investigation is ongoing and we would ask any resident who may have witnessed the incident to contact the Doylestown Township Police. We also ask that residents be vigilant, and properly secure any outbuildings and vehicles in an effort to prevent unauthorized entry.
